An Old Lady Buried in Her Cabin—The Cold Weather—Congressional News.

A Double Arrest in the Chicago Election Fraud—The General News of the Day.

Searching for the Lost.

New York, Dec. 20.—A gang of fifteen laborers are working to-day on the ice covered ruins of the burned orphan asylum in Brooklyn searching for the bodies. Temporary provision has been made in various Catholic institutions for the care and shelter of the children. A coroner's jury was impaneled but the inquest was adjourned. The funeral of the victims took place to-morrow and the interment will be held at Holy Cross at Flat Bush, Long Island. About noon to-day when the workmen had almost completed the debris they came upon a group of six men, all of which were buried in a crip. This makes sixteen bodies recovered.

Richard Paine's Notes.

CINCINNATI, Dec. 20.—A number of small postoffices in the vicinity of Cincinnati have been paying raised postal notes. The forgery is easily accomplished by the use of the first issue notes, which had the dollar column to be punched. By passing the postmaster a note for twenty cents, it could be located and made $1.20 by filling skillfully the perforated filling and filling in the word "four" in the body of the note. One office has returned ten or twelve of these raised notes. The work was timely done. It is impossible to accomplish this with the latest form of postal notes.

More of the Chicago Election News.

CHICAGO, Dec. 20.—The federal authorities arrested William Gallagher early this morning on the charge of illegal voting at an election in 1883. Gallagher was arrested only a few days ago for being concerned in the Eighteenth ward election frauds, but was released on bail. His second arrest was caused by fears that he intended to leave the city. It is alleged that he voted here when he had only left his home in Philadelphia a few months previously and had not acquired a residence here.

Not Taken on the Rills.

St. Louis, Dec. 20.—A special dispatch from Chattanooga says a terrible bloody riot occurred last night at Chattanooga, fourteen miles from that city, at a school entertainment, which a crowd of roughs tried to break up. In an effort to open them a pitched battle ensued, during which three men were shot, one of them, named Hall, four times. No less than ten men were stabbed and a great number were badly hurt. Great excitement prevails and further trouble is feared.

The Weekly Bank Statement.

New York, Dec. 20.—The bank's weekly statement shows the following changes: Loans increased, $4,110,000; specie decreased, $808,000; legal tender decreased, $1,250,000; deposits increased, $4,483,000; circulation increased, $43,000; reserve decreased, $1,565,000. The banks now hold $40,630,000 in excess of legal requirements.

Evansville, Ind., Dec. 20.—Nathan Gross, a retail clothier, assigned to Solomon Kahn. Assets, $25,000; liabilities, $60,000; preferences, $18,000.

New York, Dec. 20.—Schedules in assignment of Solomon Rich, jeweler, to Abraham Street were filed in court to-day and show liabilities of $20,000; actual assets, $10,000.

Will Reunite Work.

Pittsburg, Dec. 20.—After an idleness of several months the steel works of Hunsey Howe & Co. will start up next Monday.

Brilliant, O., Dec. 20.—The Spaulding Iron works which have been closed down for some time, will resume work in all departments next Monday.

A Big Will Case.

VINCENNES, Dec. 20.—The Wm. J. Wico will case, which has been on trial for the past twenty-two days terminated at 11 o'clock to-day by the jury returning a verdict sustaining the will. The estate is valued at $500,000. The heirs will be $9,000.

Congressional.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 20.—In the senate Veto called up his resolution objecting to sending the proposed surveying expedition to Nicaragua. Morgan moved that the matter be considered in secret legislative session. The motion was seconded by Cameron, of Wisconsin, and the doors were ordered closed. While the order

A Pennsylvania Forger—Yesterday's Expedition—The Green Cloth Knights in Distress.

The Proceedings in Detail of Yesterday's Late Session in Both Houses of Congress.

His Imaginations Will Win.

RUSSVILLE, Ind., December 19.—Last night Dick Groves, a prosperous farmer near Fairmount, Rush county, committed suicide by hanging himself in his barn. Ever since the election Groves has imagined that the country would go to ruin under Cleveland and he would lose all his property.

Blown to Atom.

BRIDGEPORT, Conn., December 19.—An explosion in a small building in the yard of the Union metallic cartridge company, blew H. Burns, an employee, into atoms and the building to splinters. It is supposed Burns dropped a can of fulminate carelessly on a piece. Two plumbers left the building two minutes before the explosion.

Too Free with Other People's Names.

LANCASTER, Pa., December 19.—Joseph Hertzog, a grocer of this city, who failed recently, was arrested this afternoon, charged with forgery. The aggregate amount of the forgeries on the banks of this city and individuals is said to amount to $7,500. He was committed to jail.

An Inconvenient Fire.

WHEELING, Dec. 19.—The two ships of the Hoyle, Jones manufacturing company, at Martin's Ferry, Ohio, manufacturers of thrashers and agricultural implements, were entirely destroyed to-night by an incendiary fire. The loss is $100,000, and insured for $50,000.

A Cold Day at the Exposition.

NEW ORLEANS, December 19.—Another intensely cold day and only a fair attendance at the Exposition. To-day, hundreds of carloads of freight were received. Forty-six were unloaded at the main building and most of the remainder at the government building, mainly for Iowa, Michigan and Dakota. This almost completely exhausted the government exhibits from that state. The first week averages seventy cars of freight per day, handled.

Turks Left New York to-day with exhibits for the New Orleans Exposition. The thermometer at midnight was zero.

Trouble in the Queen City.

CINCINNATI, December 19.—William S. Kierker, formerly teller of the Second National bank of Ironton, O., is on trial before the United States court for embezzlement of the bank funds to the amount of $16,000.

Jacob Jennings, colored, was assaulted on the street to-day by a party of men, who severely beat him, but did not take him into a store and looked the door, but they dragged him out and stabbed him twice, and left him for dead. Two or three of the assailants were captured, but the policeman was assaulted and beaten by the party. Jennings injuries are serious.

Knights of the Green Cloth.

CHICAGO, December 19.—Edward McLaughlin, of Philadelphia, champion of Philadelphia, and Wm. H. Cotton, of St. Louis, began a two nights billiard match at the Central music hall to-night for a wager of $100,000. The game is to be 5,000 points, fifteen hundred each night, three ball, caroms and unrestricted rail play. McLaughlin led from the beginning by superior rail plays, scoring 103 in the seventh inning, and beating the best previous run in this style of billiard by himself in Philadelphia, by putting together 92 in the eleventh inning. He ran 126 in the thirty-third inning and after running ninety-nine in the thirty-ninth, completed his 1,500. Cotton's total for this night was 436.

The Missouri and Mississippi Navigation.

St. Louis, December 19.—The cold weather which set in here Tuesday night still continues, and the mercury has sunk to five degrees below zero; but the temperature is more moderate to-day. The Mississippi river is full of heavy floating ice all the way north of here and as far south as Cape Girardeau, fifty miles above Cairo, where the thermometer marks six below zero. The Missouri river also is full of heavy ice. Navigation is entirely suspended here and steamers are being put into winter quarters. One steamboat man says the river is too high for tribes of Indians on the Fort Hall and Lemhi reservations in Idaho, for the sale of a portion of their lands.

The inter-state commerce bill was then taken up.

Mr. O'Neill, of Pennsylvania, moved to strike out the second session of the Reagan bill and insert the third section of the bill originally reported from the committee on commerce.

These sections have reference to rebates and drawbacks. The motion was lost; yeas, 74; nays, 121.

Mr. Everett, of Pennsylvania, offered an amendment prohibiting the issuing of free passes. Lost.

Mr. Henry of New York moved to strike out that portion of the third section which prohibited rebates.

Mr. Howitt spoke until his time expired and Mr. Warner, of Ohio, obtained the floor and yielded it to him. To this arrangement Mr. Reagan objected on the ground that the debate had been already very protracted.

Mr. Howitt replied that the debate from New York had not been heard in this debate. If the gentleman chose to paralyze the voice of New York he must take the consequence.

Mr. Reagan—"I withdraw the objection. Let the voice of New York be heard."

Mr. Howitt then continued his remarks and a general discussion followed.

Mr. Howitt's amendment was lost; 19 to 69.

Mr. Howitt then offered an amendment permitting pooling contracts when they were necessary and just.

More debate followed but, but was interrupted by Mr. Keeney, president of the committee on accounts, a privileged question regulating the manner in which the expenses of the committee investigating the conduct of the National Light should be disbursed.

A dispute arose as to the occupancy of the floor by Keeney, and the Republicans feeling aggrieved at the ruling that the speaker demandous yeas and nays on the adoption of a resolution. It was adopted.

Mr. Reagan moved that all debate on the interstate commerce bill close in five minutes.

Mr. Howitt's amendment was rejected without division. In the course of the discussion, Mr. Reid concluded the previous question and introduced a "physical pooling" as a counter-dilemma from medical pooling and thought Mr. Reagan denied this was the case, he permitted Mr. Reid to offer an amendment, which was adopted, to remedy the difficulty. Further consideration of the bill was postponed.

The speaker laid before the house a communication from the secretary of the interior, asking the appropriation of $40,000 for the protection and improvement of the Yellowstone national park. Adopted.

Mr. Blaine introduced a joint resolution, which was referred to the judiciary committee, proposing a constitutional amendment, providing the power vested in the executive to make treaties by and with the consent of the shall not be construed to embrace reciprocal treaties affecting commerce of the government, and reciprocity of treaties affecting the revenue shall not be made by the executive, or confirmed by the senate, until congress shall have agreed to the proposed changes.

Mr. Vest introduced a modification of the resolution heretofore offered by him, relating to the proposed Nicaragua canal surveying expedition. The modification declares it to be not expedient to send out an expedition (if the resolution had declared it illegal) without the sanction of congress. Mr. Vest said he would call the matter up to-morrow at the conclusion of the morning business.

Mr. Vest introduced a bill, which was referred to the committee on commerce, repealing the act of 1878, which permitted the government to charter vessels in certain cases to take steam registers from vessels.

After an executive session the senate adjourned.

Next Wednesday morning Ma ley rode to Mrs. Gilbert, and was received by her with courtesy, but warm embrace by Mrs. Easton. As the latter invited her to her parlor, saying there is something but no one knows. This, although hardly unexpected, set her heart beating, and when the parlor was opened, Miss Easton stepped in and Mary was alone with Wallford.

R. T. McDonald has returned from New Orleans. The Jenny electric light gets a great advertisement at the exposition and Mr. McDonald says it works like a charm.

Milton Sawyer, a lame negro, was let out of jail this morning. Sawyer did not want to go and says he will cause himself to be sent back promptly. He passes the winter at jail.

The Marion Democrat, in its issue about the town's colored people, has the following: "Mrs. Taylor, who has been visiting in Fort Wayne, for several days, returned home Friday last."

G. L. Centilive will begin cutting ice Monday for use in his business next summer. A half dozen ice houses can scarcely hold enough of the congelated to satisfy Mr. Centilive's growing beer business.

Henry Newham is enjoying a week's vacation. His sales of wall paper for the past year are above any other traveling man in the west, and the Chicago house of A. S. Maxwell & Co. is proud of their Indiana man.

The owners of the feeder canal have filled the old canal basin in Nebraska with water so that ice men can cut a crop of the coasegled for the summer trade. They get about five hundred dollars for the ice privilege.

Miller & Metz, of the Aveline house, have the heating of their hotel down to perfection. Base burner coal stoves stand in the corridors of the four floors and from there the different sleeping apartments are made a snug as a nest.

Wagon amateurs are preparing to produce the "Hillside Spy." L. Q. Jeffries, a former city editor of The Sentinel, is in the title role. Mr. Jeffries lives at Wooster, Ohio, and during the winter months inflicts the play on the people.

Messrs. Fred and Wm. Meyer, of St. Louis, and Fred Meyer, of New York City, are here to pay respects to J. E. Wm. Meyer, who celebrated the anniversary of his birth yesterday. The Messrs. Meyer will remain until after the holidays and then go to Kansas City.

Last night two boys, aged eight and twelve, were at the residence of Trustees Gaffney to ask a night's lodging. The little fellows were almost dead from the cold and said they came from Peoria to hunt employment. They were sheltered for the night and gladly returned to their native city this morning.

Mr. and Mrs. John I. White went to Ohio last night.

Gardner and his party, in all thirteen people, stopped at the Mayer home.

Conrad Mahrt, one of the oldest members of the City band, has resigned.

S. B. McManus, an old Fort Wayne newspaper man, has a poem in the Warsaw Times.

J. J. Foster and daughter, of Adams county, and H. O. Thornton, of Indianapolis, are at the Mayer house.

The amateur opera people will rehearse the "Pirates of Penzance" at the Conservatory hall Monday evening.

A sleigh, occupied by Joe Fry and his family, broke down on East Lewis street last night. No one was injured.

Prof. A. Orull, of the Concordia college will go to New Orleans in a few days and will visit the exposition several weeks.

Mrs. J. C. Steidman, of Unadilla, Mich., is the guest of her daughter, Mrs. W. D. Hartshoff, at 285 West Jefferson street.

Thursday morning two Nickel Plate engines collided at Leipsic, Ohio, and both were completely demolished. The accident was the result of carelessness.

Very Rev. Father Sorin, superior general of the Order of the Holy Cross and founder of Notre Dame university, is in the city, a guest of Rt. Rev. Bishop Dwenger.

Tom McMahon, of Dixon, has not entirely recovered from the malady that effects his reason. His friends, and he has many of them, anticipate softening of the brain.

The Andrews Express, the best railroad newspaper on the Wabash road, does not take kindly to the statement of General Manager Talma's great popularity with the railroad boys.

In the case of James McManely against the Grand Rapids and Indiana railroad company, a petition for a rehearing was overruled by the supreme court. The case comes from Randolph county.

Richmond Palladium: Mrs. M. A. Carter, of Fort Wayne, is the guest of her son, George Jones, South Ninth street. Mrs. Harry Schwartz has gone to Fort Wayne to spend the holidays with her relatives.

Four electric wires now run into H. O. Graf's jewelry house. The inconceivable wire, the telephone wire, the fire alarm wire and a special wire from the Pittsburg road terminate and radiate from the jewelry house.

The Indianapolis News, republican, gives President Arthur the following handsome start on his senatorial race: "President Arthur is definitely entered for the race as senator from New York. We trust he will be well beaten."

Mr. J. F. William Meyer, at the head of the big drug house here, was sixty years old yesterday and was congratulated by a party of his friends at his residence last evening. Mr. Meyer, like most successful men, began life in an humble way.

Water pipes are split into pieces in private and business houses about town. Nearly one hundred service connections await repair. The cellar under John Swartz's building, on West Main street, was flooded through a cracked pipe. This is great work for the plumbers.

Mason Long, the temperance evangelist, has been honorably acquitted of a serious charge, recently circulated by a newspaper man and Dr. Thayer, of the lying-in-hospital. Mr. Long is in earnest in his reformation, but here, as in every community, a few men stand ready to drag a man down.

Tom Sullivan, the south depot mail agent, is circulating a petition among the soldiers praying for his retention in the present place under President Cleveland. Tom was an United States marshal in Ohio for the republicans, took a very active part in Mr. Blaine's campaign and, of course, found his head will drop. P. J. Fulton, James Wolfe and George Finkel are seeking the place, and it is possible other applicants will come to the front.

Justice Ryan presided at police court this morning and disposed of four offenders. Phillip Plank, drunken farmer, paid $13.75; John Grady, for a spree, paid $18; John Jones, a railroad man, who gave an alias to save his position, paid $12.75 for looking through the bottom of a beer glass, and Jacob Gessler, who in a drunken stupor assailed Charley McGrady of stealing a suit of clothes, is hunting bail. Gessler found his clothes and McGrady was let go last night by Chief Dioli.

D. S. Keil of the Gazette does not seem to be a good judge of horses. The Wabash Plain Dealer says: "Mr. D. S. Keil, of the Fort Wayne Gazette, and J. W. Herper, his attorney, were in the city Wednesday and Thursday, on legal business. Some time ago Mr. Keil bought a horse of a man named LaGro, giving his note in payment. The note was bought by John Owens, who has now brought suit for collection. Keil claims that the horse was warranted sound, and proved worthless. Both gentlemen made pleasant calls at this office."

Prof. Spencer B. Smith, of Chicago, is in the city.

Prosecutor Dawson is after several butchers, who have been selling unwholesome pork.

Wabash Engineer Snyder and family, of Andrews, are visiting friends in this city, this week.

The Wabash shops are closed to-day. Next week five engines will be turned out of the shops here.

Reiseke's orchestra has been engaged to furnish the music for the ball at Wabash on the evening of Dec. 30.

C. C. Perry was registered at the Grand and W. H. Thomas at the Bates hotel, Indianapolis, last Thursday.

It requires the constant service of Deputy Marshal Brandt to keep the most wagons in place on Calhoun between Main and Columbia streets.

This morning a Madison township farmer bought a $4 overcoat at Lanier's clothing store and drove a road wagon. The man, who is in poor circumstances, was almost wild with joy.

Engineer Isaac Siddell, injured in the wreck at New Haven about three weeks ago, is still disabled from duty. The report that he was discharged from the Wabash service is not true, although he is under suspension.

The ladies' executive committee of the City hospital have distributed at the homes of charitably disposed people large paper sacks, in which donations for the sick may be placed, the bags to be collected before Christmas.

It is announced that the office of chief train dispatcher of the middle division of the Wabash is abolished and that the duties of that office will hereafter be performed by the train dispatchers under the supervision of the train masters.

The new locomotive for the Electric Light company has just been completed at the Bass Foundry and Machine works. When this stationary engine is in place the electric light people propose to hang new lamps and increase the power of the sparks.

By order of General Manager Talma, no more than five tons of coal are now permitted to be loaded on the tender of any Wabash engine. This necessitates stopping to take coal on both the first and second districts, and makes it that much harder to make the runs on the fast trains.

Notwithstanding the frigid weather the hardy and brave railroad boys drew out a large attendance at the Academy Thursday night to a supper and concert. The entertainment was neatly planned and successfully carried out. After the ladies had served a nice supper, those present listened for an hour to an interesting concert by Misses Ida Kellogg and Stella Lawrence and Messrs. Mohr, Schmidt, Wats, Bach and Schulte.

The receivers of the Wabash railway announce to-day that they will pay on November 23, interest which fell due on November 1 on the Quincy and Toledo first-mortgage bonds, the Toledo and Wabash second-mortgage bonds, the Wabash and Western second-mortgage bonds, the Great Western of 1890 second-mortgage bonds, the Toledo, Wabash and Western consolidated sinking-fund bonds and the Boone county and Booneville Railway company bonds.

Suit has been begun to cancel the lease of the north end of the old Indianapolis, Peru and Chicago road, from La Porte, the Wabash company having defaulted the interest on $1,000,000 of bonds. This piece of road is owned by a company styled the Chicago, Cincinnati and Louisville, and as the line from Peru to Indianapolis has been purchased outright by the Wabash, the north end will probably be operated by the company when it drops out of the Wabash system.

The Michigan railroad superintendents held a meeting in Detroit Wednesday, and discussed the advisability of forming an association and general railroad topics. The subject of forming a permanent organization was referred to Superintendents Methuen, of the Grand Rapids and Indiana, Morgan, of the Detroit, Grand Haven and Milwaukee, and Stark, of the Cincinnati, Hamilton and Dayton. Another meeting will be held in Detroit the second Tuesday in January, when the report of the committee will be discussed.

We are informed that Col. I. B. McDonald, of Columbia City, is a candidate for pension agent of the state. There is no better man in the state, nor one who would more acceptably fill the position, or one more justly entitled to it than the old war horse of Whittier county. He has helped fight the battles of democracy, not for reward, but for pure love for his party. He has given, his money, time and influence to the work. As a citizen he is above reproach and his neighbors will vouch for his honesty and for his good service to his own country. His appointment, too, would give satisfaction to the soldiers, as well as to the great majority of the democracy.

Great Reduction.
